

A hat party with a difference

In these days of our rat-race lives, you might find it tough to think of people who would gain sufficient enjoyment from something like a tea party.

Not at the Lusito Association for the Mentally and Physically Disabled brunch! 200 ladies enjoyed every second of this glamorous and fun event. On Saturday 29 October it was a feast of food, colours and hats at the Lusito Banqueting Hall.

Some of the activities of the day were a demonstration by port a kitchen on the new Thermomix, a Pure Romance talk on all the new products to spice up your life, dances from the "boys", a fashion show and a voice from heaven, Roberto Adao.

Dee Stead with her lovely pink flower hat won the best hat competition.

The collage should give you a glimpse on an event not to be missed, furthermore, it's all for a good cause.

Congratulations must go to Naomi Contente and Suzy de Lima on a function well-organised.
